

Call for Papers

9th Multinational Energy and Value Conference

ESG in the Energy Sector

You are cordially invited to submit your research papers for presentation consideration at the CEVI conference that will take place on May 11th-13th, 2023. This conference, hosted by the LIDAM group of the Université catholique de Louvain (UCL), will be organized both in person and online and aims at bringing together academics and practitioners from all over the world to focus on timely energy finance and investments, financial performance, energy markets and valuation issues in the energy sector.

The theme of this year's conference focuses on the environmental, social, and governance (ESG) concerns, which are now high on the agendas of policymakers, firms, investors, and academics worldwide, in particular for the energy industry. The energy industry is one of the leading actors in the climate change challenges. However, today's energy industry is not only exposed to considerations regarding its impact on the environment, but the sector now also has to consider its social and governance policies in order to meet ESG expectations. Yet, such influences on the value of energy firms remain to be investigated. This conference will be the opportunity to present, discuss and examine such challenges, along with other energy issues, such as: Financial Regulation; Financial Markets; Financial Risks; Asset Pricing; Value at Risk; Capital Structure; Sourcing Capital; Corporate (Re-) Structuring; Corporate Governance; Behavioral Finance; Financial Performance; Cost Control; Financial Accounting; Fiscal and Legal Issues.

This conference is organized in collaboration with the Center for Energy and Value Issues and the Energy Markets Research and Application Center of Hacettepe University in Ankara, Turkey.
